Preservation Professionals

Revised May 24, 2023

There are many companies that specialize in the care of traditional building materials and historic buildings. You will also find “regular” building and construction firms that can be excellent choices for restoration work or common improvements to historic properties.

It pays to explore when selecting a contractor or product: always get at least three estimates. A firm that advertises widely or comes recommended could have an unenthusiastic approach or give an estimate that is too high. A firm that seems exclusive or expensive can surprise you with a competitive bid. A firm that doesn't specialize in historic buildings can show interest and enthusiasm for your project and property. A firm you've never heard of can be the perfect fit.

When searching for a contractor it can be helpful to visit completed projects and to talk with property owners about their experience with a particular firm or individual. Some firms specialize in large, commercial projects, others in small and/or residential projects. Some work on both. Websites will usually indicate the scope and type of projects undertaken. Online reviews can be helpful as well, but they should always be taken with a grain of salt. Some excellent firms or individuals have no website or email. Do not overlook word-of-mouth recommendations.

This list is not intended to be all-inclusive or to be viewed as an endorsement by the Historic Preservation Commission (HPC) or M-NCPPC of the professionals included. The list is provided as a service of the Prince George's County HPC; therefore, firms based in Prince George's County are highlighted. However, the Mid-Atlantic region is rich in historic resources and people with a wealth of expertise. Never hesitate to contact a firm from another county or state. They work in the county frequently and may be the firm for your job.

If you are a professional with experience and/or specialization in historic properties, and/or your service area includes Prince George's County and you would like to be included in this list please email us.
